Staying Sharp and Active

Keeping our minds active is one of the best ways to support brain health, build cognitive reserve, and strengthen mental connections. Just like physical exercise keeps our bodies moving, simple mental workouts—like the Anagram Square puzzle—give our brains a great workout and help keep us sharp.

This August, St John is proud to help you stay both mentally active and socially connected through our regular community transport trips. Joining us for a friendly day out is a wonderful way to challenge your mind, meet new people, and catch up with friends.

Check your August timetable for all our upcoming social trip details and booking information!

Mauricio

What is your role?

I am the Community Development Coordinator for the Aged Care Volunteer Visitors Scheme (ACVVS), supporting volunteers and helping connect older people experiencing social isolation with meaningful companionship.

How long have you worked with St John Qld?

Just over 3 years.

What is your favourite food?

A good barbecue with family and friends.

What is your favourite colour?

Red has always been my favourite colour, but lately I've also developed a soft spot for yellow! Supporting both the Socceroos and the Colombian national Soccer team has made yellow a colour that reminds me teamwork and bringing people together especially during the World Cup.

Do you have any hobbies?

I enjoy sports, spending time with family, and following football. At the moment, I'm enjoying the World Cup.

What is your favourite thing about your job?

Seeing the friendships that grow between volunteers and older people. It's rewarding to know that even a simple conversation or regular visit can make a real difference in someone's life and help reduce social isolation.
